

Akrom Sardar memorial research scholars' conclave (State level)

on

'Recent trends in Anthropological research'

(28th August 2021)

Through Google Meet

Organized by

Department of Anthropology
West Bengal State University

About the conclave:

Akrom Sardar, the former student of the department. who joined in the Ph.D. programme of the Department of Anthropology, during last academic year after qualifying both SET and NET, left us on July 18, 2021 after suffering from Acute Myeloid Leukemia and post-COVID complications. A student of weaker section and economically downtrodden family, Akrom has successfully overcome all the barriers with regard to academics but failed to overcome due to unbearable cost of medical treatment. Our students, friends as well as well-wishers raised money for his treatment, but that was not enough to bear overall that expensive treatment. During his short life span as research scholar, he also published two research articles of excellent repute.

The department is planning to organize 'Research scholars' conclave' every year, where Ph.D. and M.Phil scholars of the discipline Anthropology will get the opportunity to take part and share their world of research. There will be no restriction regarding the area of research in the domain of Anthropology. Any research idea which is registered under any University/ research institutes are welcome to this conclave. Cordial assistance from respective ends is earnestly solicited.

Call for Abstracts:

Only registered research scholars (both Ph.D. and M.Phil) are invited to submit their 'structured abstract' within 20th August 2021. The abstracts should be submitted in English within 500 words through mail only (subir@wbsu.ac.in). However, as a state level conclave, they are free to choose English or Bengali as medium of presentation/discussion.

Selected paper will be published as special issues of the departmental journal-Genus Homo.
